

SYCAMORE SHOALS MONUMENT UNVEILED

Shaft Erected to Commemorate
March to King's Mountain.

BUILT BY D. A. R. CHAPTERS

Feature of Occasion Is Address
by Senator
Taylor.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bristol, Va., June 14.—An occasion of national significance was that at Sycamore Shoals, in Carter county, Tennessee, to-day, when, with appropriate ceremony, there was unveiled a monument erected to commemorate the heroes that marched from that point across the Alleghany Mountains to fight what proved to be the decisive battle of the War of the Revolution.

The occasion brought to the Valley of East Tennessee thousands of people, representing not only East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia, but portions of North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama and other Southern States. Special trains were run from towns and cities in East Tennessee in order to accommodate the throng.

A feature of the occasion was the presence of a party of young men from Bristol and other towns, who appeared in the garb of pioneers, as types of the men who assembled at Sycamore Shoals on the occasion when plans for a battle with Ferguson and his men were perfected.

United States Senator Robert L. Taylor, who was born on almost that identical spot, was the orator of the occasion, and delivered an eloquent address in which he reviewed the story of the early struggles and the men whose efforts counted for most in achieving national independence.

Boys' Travel Monument.

The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Osborne, of Johnson City. While "America" was being sung by the throng in attendance, three youths, descendants of the three general executors of the monument, were led to the spot where the monument, that memorable occasion, unveiled the monument. These lads were: Robert Asher Gray, of Bristol, a descendant of General Campbell; Carter Crymble,

DEFENSE BEGINS ATTACK ON WHITE

Investigation of Alleged Bribery Charge in Lorimer Election.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—The expulsion of two spectators from the trial of State Representative Lee O'Neil Browne, charged with paying $1,000 to Representative Charles A. White to vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator, to-day gave emphasis to State's Attorney Wayman's declaration that he would prevent any possibility for undue influence to reach the jury. The men removed were Ernest Krulwich, a Chicago politician, and Henry Wagner. The latter owed his embarrassment to having made audible expression of a belief in the guilt of the defendant.

Mr. Wayman said that during the trial of "Skinny" Madden, a labor leader, charged with extortion, Krulwich had brought suspicion on himself by shaking hands with Madden in front of the jury. Krulwich was served with a subpoena to appear before before a grand jury to-morrow.

The defense, on cross-examination, began an attack on the character of White, with the ultimate design, it is said, of charging that the present allegations grew out of an unsuccessful blackmailing scheme of White's. White, written to Brown, W. S. Forrest, chief of counsel for the defendant, ran against a snag. The court ruled that before they could be accepted as evidence White must first identify the letters. White's evasive replies visibly nettled Browne's attorneys. Eventually two letters were identified. In one of them, written subsequently to the election of Senator Lorimer, White said:

"I have only 99 cents in the world. If you will fill in the enclosed promissory note for whatever money you will loan me I will be glad."

The note, made out for $50, also was placed in evidence. Other notes aggregating $100 were also introduced. Some of the expressions used in letters which the defense attempted to introduce were:

"By the grace of God, every cent you have let me have I will return."

"I have my ring in pawn for a few dollars."

"The future is sure to bring surprises. Do not be surprised anything I may do in the future."

By this expression, the defense will argue, White was attempting to blackmail Browne.

A letter written to White by Senator Lorimer was likewise read to the jury. White wrote that he was about to place his experience as a legislator before the public. He said he had been offered $250 a word for it. Mr. Forrest asked him if he had submitted his story to certain newspapers which he named. Witness admitted that he had.

"Did you offer it to the Chicago Tribune?"

"Yes, sir."

White produced his contract, by which the Tribune agreed to pay him $3,250 for his story of the alleged bribery. Part of this sum, White said, had already been paid him.

The cross-examination is expected to continue all day to-morrow.

Spillman, of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be one of the speakers.

WILLIAMSON CASE AGAIN IN COURT

Alleged Wife Murderer Sentenced to Prison for Bigamy.

VETERANS DISCUSS TRIP

Appropriations by Council Concurred In by Aldermen.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
105 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., June 14.

In the Hastings Court to-day the case of Junius A. Williamson, indicted for the murder of his young wife by poison on June 9 last, was continued over to the July term. At the first trial the jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Williamson was, to-day, however, sentenced to a term of four years and six months in the penitentiary for bigamy, to which charge he some time ago confessed. It was originally intended to give him a term of five years, but having spent six months in jail, that time was deducted from the sentence. On Friday next Williamson will be placed on trial to answer an indictment for forgery.

The Veterans' Trip North.
At a meeting of the veterans of A. P. Hill Camp last night details of their coming trip to Springfield, Mass., as the guests of Wilcox Post, G. A. R., were fully discussed, and thirty-five of the veterans signified their intention to make the trip. This number may be increased. The camp will go to New York via the Old Dominion Steamship Line on July 1.

A letter from James Anderson, commander of Wilcox Post, says that among the features of the camp's entertainment will be an excursion to Boston to visit Faneuil Hall and to attend reception given by the Governor. It is not believed that the camp can arrange to accept the cordial invitation to visit Troy, N. Y., as the guests of Tibbits Post.

Death of Venerable Woman.
Mrs. Mary E. Parker, aged seventy-two years, widow of Joseph A. Parker, a former prominent merchant of Petersburg, died this morning at 1 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Fraser, on East Tabb Street, after a prolonged illness. She had practically been an invalid for two years or more. Mrs. Parker was very highly respected in the community. She leaves no children, but many relatives in the city.

Aldermen Meeting.
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last evening, eight of the twelve members being present. The agenda of business adopted and appropriations by the Common Council last week were concurred in, including the general appropriations and tax ordinances for the next fiscal year. The appropriations ordinance carries nearly $320,000 for next year's expenses, and the rate of taxation on real and personal property remains as now—$1.40 on the $100 of values.

The matter of a loan from the sinking fund of $5,000 to the Southside Agricultural and Industrial Association for the purchase of a site and the erection of buildings for annual fairs was referred back to the Finance Committee and City Attorney to ascertain if the West End Park could not be used for fast purposes.
